

Curves and markers are illustrative. The separation is established by integer arithmetic.